Our approach is to implement continuous improvement for your maintenance system so that your managers are able to adapt to new objectives in line with your company's strategic plan.

Implementation of a Maintenance System

More and more, manufacturing companies are implementing sophisticated pieces of equipment to accelerate production and meet higher quality criteria. There is therefore more pressure on maintenance department employees not only to maintain this equipment but also understand the new technology and sometimes participate in many improvement projects.

If you are in this situation, the implementation or review of your management system is a solution that will probably have a high impact on your company's performance.

We ensure that all project team members work with a clear vision that has been established by the senior manager responsible for the maintenance system in question. Depending on the availability of required resources, we can also support you through every stage of the procedure, including:

- Database creation
- Development of system procedures
- Implementation of asset management software
- Training and coaching of system users

Auger Groupe Conseil uses maintenance best practices as our inspiration to offer a customized program to each of our clients. Furthermore, each project is spearheaded by experienced managers who understand your needs and know the best way to address those needs.
